

Consultant Bio: Mr. Aroldo Araujo

Mr. Aroldo Araujo is a marketing professional with over 20 years of experience and a proven track record of outstanding business development and sales achievements. A graduate of California State University, Mr. Araujo spent the last two decades making his mark in the California and Florida area as a leading sales specialist.

With his determination to exceed the expectations of his assigned responsibilities and his own, Mr. Araujo continuously smashed targets, raised millions of dollars in sales, and created strategies that fostered growth and development and improved the relationships between their customers and their partners.

Mr. Araujo also has experience as an instructor, providing English lessons related to career and technical subjects such as incorporating business fundamentals, career development, and American culture to international students by coaching, motivating, and improving language barriers through extensive conversation with real-life scenarios and networking workshops.